Time Limit Placed for a Conferent Slisbury Receives an Ovation-War Credit of $25,000,000.

London, Sept. 10.—The cabinet here attracted greater public interest than any meeting of ministers for years past. A well dressed crowd of people cordinally greeted the most prominent cabinet ministers and impatiently thronged the precincts of the foreign office throughout the session, eagerly scrutinizing the faces of those coming and going in the hope of obtaining a glimmering of the outcome of this momentous event. A war spirit was evident on all sides, and the generals were enthusiastically cheered as they appeared, the crowd evidently understanding that they had been summoned to be in readiness in the event of the ministers wishing their advice.

they make event of the ministers wishing their advice.

A crowd of 2,000 to 3,000 assembled at the White hall entrance to Downing street, where the foreign and colonial offices are situated, early this morning.

Mr. Jos. Chamberlain and the Earl of Selborn, under secretary, were the first arrivals, and were followed by Field Marshall Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the army and General Sir Revers Buller, who it is said, will have the field command in the event of war with the Transvaal and General Sir Evelyn Wood, adjutant general of the forces.

with the Transvaal and General Sir Evelyn Wood, adjutant general of the forces.

The arrival of Lord Salisbury was the signal for tremendous cheering. Next came the Dake of Devonshire, lord president of the council.

The first indication of a possible decision of the cabinet came from the stock exchange, where the tone recovered on a report that the ministers had decided not to send an ultimatum to the government of the Transvaal, but to insist that the Transvaal must agree to a conference at Cape Town. But it is too early yet to pretend to give this as definite information of the action contemplated or taken.

The ministers came out arm in arm, laughing and chatting, greatly contrasting with the manner with which they went in. Lord Salisbury was again received with an ovation. Although the foreign office has not given out an official statement, the general impression is that no ultimatum will be sent to the Transvaal at present, and that a time limit was placed for a conference at Cape Town.

The cabines decided to sak at once for a war credit of 25,000,000. This was accided upon at a special meeting of the cabinet called in extreme haste because of the Transvaal criss. Intense excitement was aroused by the war council.

Pretoria, Sept. 10.—In the course of a debate in the rand Friday President Kruger said he knew the Lord would give a good judgment in the dispute tetween Eugland and the Transvaal and that "if Mr. Chamberlain stood before the countenance of God his own conscience must acknowledge that there was no suzerainty." All depended, the president declared, upon Mr. Chamberlain's reply. He (Kruger) had given much away already. He had given his jacket and his tronsers, the only thing left was his independence." "It is said," continued Kruger, "that it was the desire of the British to wipe out the defeat at Majuba Hill, but it was the noblest thing that England ever did when, after that, she restored the independence of the Transvaal. That was due to Mr. Gladstone, who saw that the petitions sent to the Queen were false. That deed is indelibly engraved on the minds of the inhabitants of the Transvaal as the noblest of England's deeds."

on the Transvaal Frontier.

Pretoria. Sept. 8.—At the desire of the Transvaal government Mr. Conyngham Greene, British diplomatic agent here, communicated to Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony, and British high commissioner in South Africa, an enquiry as to whether an explanation should be given in regard to the mobilization of British troops on the Transvaal frontier.

London, Sept. 8.—The Transvaal situation as changed since yearerday for the worse. The Roer request for an explanation as to the massing of British troops on the frontier of the Transvaal is an ominous note of intation and impatience, which, at such a critical stage, can scarcely be interpreted as anything but defiance.

Both here and at Cape Colony, the tension and arming continue. Whether tomorrow's cabinet council will afford immediate relief is still a question of great doubt. The more conservative believe that the cabinet will only put a time limit on negotiations, and the interin will be merely a repetition of the anxious time which has marked the past few weeks.

Cape Town advices say the Afrikanders regard the last Boer reply as evasive; while others regard it as designed to entangle the two governments in further negotiations. The average opinion of the British press is inclined to regard it as the last straw which will break the back of the most long suffering diplomatic camel.

A special dispatch to the Morning Post from Petermaritzburg says that the 800 Boors who left Pretoria for Standerton, about fifty miles from the frontier, pushed on to Volkssrist, close to the Natal border, where they are now encamped. The same correspondent says that the arrangements for the defence of Newcastle, in Natal, are now practically complete.

CANAL BLOCKED.

CANAL BLOCKED.

Ship Wrecked in St. Mary's River, Closing Ep the Soo to Navigation.

Toronto. Sept. 8.—A serious loss will be occasioned to the upper lake shipping industry by a block which had occurred at Sault Ste. Marie canal by the wrecking of a large ship laden with iron ore in St. Mary's river, effectively blocking the channel for all boats drawing more than 131-2 feet of water. Stopping St. Mary's channel even for a few days at the present time involves a very large loss to vessel owners. Canadian owners will of course lose less in proportion than the Americans, and will not, of course, be very much hurt, as the proportion of the Canadian deep draft vessels was comparatively small. The Canadian Pacific railway lins from Owen Sound to Fort William will be prevented from sailing and two vessels of the Northern company which ply to Lake Superior ports will have to sail lighter than usual or also tie-up for the time. The Rosedale, Banuockburn and other Canadian grain carriers using the well and canal only draw fourteen feet and by loading light can get through the old Canadian channel of thirteen and one-half feet. The carriage of Canadian wheat from Fort William to Buffalo and of American wheat and iron ore from Lake Superior to Lake Erie ports will, however, be almost stopped as the vessels eugaged in that traffic are of great size and cannot possibly get through till the blockade is raised. In the present congestion of traffic this is a very serious thing for the owners of grain in Lake Superior elevators.

Negotiations Will Probably Re Concluded Within a Few Days.

New York, Sept. 7.—The Herald's Washington correspondent sends the following vegarding: the Alaskan boundary: "Negotiations for a medus vivendi defining a temporary boundary line between the Dominion and Alaska will be concluded within a few days unless unforseen circamstances intervene. The facts, which came to my attention show that Secretary Hay has convinced Great Britain of the impregnable character of the position of the United States and Great Fritain of the impregnable character of the position of the United States and Great Fritain of the impregnable character of the position of the United States and Great Fritain of the impregnable character of the position of the United States and Great Fritain of the Indian village of Kluckwan. The other points where the line will be located were agreed upon some months ago and are not under 'discussion now. The effect of the location of the boundary as fixed by the secretary and practically agreed to by Great Britain will be that the entire fynn canal will be under American control and Canada will not, under the temporary agreement have a port on the waterway. The question of a Canadam port at the Lynn canal will be left; to segotiations for the permanent settlement of the dispute. The high joint commission will have nothing further '6 do with the Alaskan boundary question, though the American members will undoubtedly consult with Secretary Hay.

THE DEBUT OF ONE GIRL WHO WANT-ance When she Fleed From the Strige in Shame and Dismay.

There's a very large number of performers—would be and others—who are given "trial performances" in the vande ville theaters to test their ability to suit he patrons. Sometimes these are given in public without previous notice on the programmes. but generally for the manager's eye alone.

A very pretty and ambitious young girl had quite an experience in this way last summer.

"You know how poor we were," she said to me when I had coaxed her to tell of her debut, "and how large every dollar holded. All my friends had penised my parfor recitations as being very fine, and to I thought I might as well see if I couldn't turn my talent to some account. "I applied to six vandeville agents. None of them cared for what I did, but they all offered to have a sketch written for me by different men whom they recommended—in their employ, I after ward learned.

they all offered to have a sketch written for me by different men whom they recommended—in their employ, I after ward learned.

"This would require from $25 to $50 as a starter, and as this was out of the question they all dropped me like a hot potato. Thus I never got near the prominent vaudeville managers at all.

"But I kept at it, and I at length met a manager who, after hearing me, agreed to let me go on that night unamounced, except by the sign 'Extra Turn', which was pushed out for the audience to see.

"If I suited, I was to have $25 a week.

"Twenty-five dollars a month would have seemed splendid, and in a great state of excitement I rehearsed my music with the pinnist, who tried to fitr with me, and rushed home to carry the good news and fix up a wardrobe for my three recitations.

"I was to make my appearance at 9 o'clock, but I got behind the scenes as early as 7, with my sister as dresser. Oh, what a state of excitement we were in."

Oh, what a state of excitement we were in:"

"The 'tip' seemed to have gone around that I was an experiment, for I received many quizzient glances from the performances, who were made up and attired as negroes, had cariers, acrobats, so heretes, clowns, dincers and the like, "At 8:20 the manager tapped at my dressing room door and then entered. He said down without removing his hat and 'sized me up' rather sourly.

"You're never going to wear that skirt, are you?" he asked.

"Yes, sir. Why not?"

"Oh, it's too long! You've got to hit em when you first come on. Cut about three inches off that skirt, and you'll have it right."

"We were both distressed and indigenant.

"I shouldn't like to do that," I faltered.
"You'll have to do a good many things von don't like if you're going to stay in this business, he said shortly as he rose to go. 'I know my audiences.'
"Then he went out.
"'Let's go home, 'said my sister, whose face was now very pale. 'This is no place for you."
"What I could earn here in a week would pay our rent for a month, 'I said firmly. 'Get the seissors, needle and thread.' Then, despite her remonstrances, I turned up two inches of the skirt, stitched it and put it on. Then I looked at myself in a long mirror.
"'You look lovely,' sighed my sister, 'but, ch, I'm so ashmed!"
"So was I, but I felt that I'd rather face a friendly audience than an unfriendly landlord, so up stairs I went and stood at the wings waiting my 'turn' in an agony of nervousness.
"'A tail, pretty contortion dancer had just come off the stage and lay panting for breath on a mass of old carpet. She smiled faintly and asked between her gusps:
"'Dancer?'

"A tall, pretty contortion dancer may inst come off the stage and lay panting for breath on a mass of old carpet. She smiled faintly and asked between her gasps:

"Dancer?"
"I shook my head.
"You can thank God for that," she whispered, 'for it means death. I've got consumption.

"Here the stage manager came up.
"Your turn next,' he said, 'when those 'knockouts' get through. They take two encores. This is their last."

"Oh, the agony of waiting for those men to finish and the fear that they would! How they worked! They knocked each other down with barrels, pulled noses, cracked each other over the head with this trays, tripped and fell over each other and staggered off past me in a state of wreckage and perspiration that was dire to see.

"Then! I saw the page draw out two signs and put in two others. Then my manie sounded—it seemed miles away-and the stage manager gave me a geutle push.

"The 'fid when I walked out among those people.
"Thir's for the short skirt.! Hought and felt like sitting down in shame. I reached the center of the stage in some way—oh, how can actors and actresses ficht for such an uncomfortable position—and, fixing my eyes in self defense on the pianist, began my rectation.

"I was vaguely conscious that the man of music was accompanying me and nod-ling and winking encouragement at the same time. My voice sounded faint and far away, and I felt myself wondering if I should ever recover from this horrible experience. Then the flutter of a programme distracted my attention, and my eyes fell upon the front row.

"There sat four people whom I knew very well indeed—people who had fremently called upon us in better days. They were looking at me and my legs in amazement and horror, then disputing with each other and referring to the programme.

"The words died on my lips, and I rushed hysterically from the stage, seized a cloak that my sister was holding for me, dashed down stairs in the elevator, out into the street and ran all the way home. I am mov a typewriter, and the sich to a roof garden gi

AN AMERICAN DID IT.

He Opened the Bank of England's Vaults on a Wager.

The first world's fair, the Crystal palace at London, was held in 1851, and though it was a long time ago it is not forzotten and has not been surpassed by the world's fairs which have followed. It was at the Crystal palace that the American mechanic showed that he stood second to none in the world. Hobbs challenged Chubu, and Hobbs, the American mechanic, carried off the first prize as a lockmaker. Hobbs represented an American manufacturer of iron bank safes. He placed his safe on exhibition and tied the key to the combination lock on the outside. Inside the safe was placed £250, or $1,250, and the free offer was made to the mechanics of the world that if they opened the safe the money contained therein could be taken for their success. The safe was never opened. At that time Chubb was famous all over England and in Europe as a lockmaker. The Bank of England, but to open also the workmanship of the locks and offered to not only enter the outer doors of the Bank of England, but to open also the seven doors leading to the treasure safes inside of two hours if permission was given. This was too much for the Britishers to stand, and they gave the necessary consent.

Hobbs was on hand two hours before the time for opening the doors of the bank arrived and announced himself ready to go to work. All the tools he had he carried in his vest pocket, consisting of about 20 picks. He opened the front door in the treasure safe. In six minutes the door opened, and before one hour had passed, half of the time he asked for, he had his hands in the treasure safe. A Clever Fish Trick.

Nearly every one has seen the pretty bushtail goldish that have four of five or sometimes more. long, wavy, fliny talls, but very few people know that but very few of them are born that way. When the little goldish are very, very young, their flesh is as clear as glass, so that one can see every bone in their tiny bodies. At this time the few that are born with two or more talls are put by themselves, and then a queer looking old Jap, with great magnifying glass fastened in front of his eye and wee sharp tools handy, reaches down under the water and cuts off the tails of the plain little fish, and then three or four of these tails are jointed no to the backbone where the one was cut off and fastened there with tiny bandages until they grow fast.

The Japanese, who are very skillful in queer things of this kind, grow the finest goldfish in the world, and it is a very good business, for very fine fish of this kind of the plain the principle of the plain the principle of the plain one was sold not long ago for $1,000.

The former jowner had the promises of all at once. The following day the western household was out entity to look over the place. There was no snow on the ground. The evergreens, the pines and cedars were every where, just as the westerner had told his wife and daughter. But the wife, a practical sort of woman, who hadn't much use for Longfellow, asked "pa" why therees were in tubs and buckets.

Was the New England pined slow? The man who represented the third generation on this farm, having learned that your western farmer was on a sentiment all purchase, bought up all the trees in baxes and tubs, such as you see in summer gardens and in barren places, and had them stacked away until a big snow dropped all over New England. Then they were planted about the old place, and the snow was packed about the boxes to hide them.

Your western man, who salted mines are batted high, that when the western mans aw that he had bought a "gold brice" he never squealed. He was too, thoroughly western for that. They passed several damp places, examining the ground closely, when the leader halted near us and began to paw a hole in the hot, dry sand. Having dug a hole something over a foot in depth, he backed out and watched it intently. To our surprise it soon began to fill with water. Then he advanced, took a drink and stepped aside for his companions to drink. When they went away, we drank from their well and found the water to be much cooler than any we had found for many a day. There is no witcheraft about Mexican burros, but they have good horse sense."

A Strange Test of Manhood.

The ancient Clan Macleod used to exercise a strange test to prove the manhood of their chieftains. At Dunvegar castle, on the island of Skye, there is preserved the large horn known as "Rory More's Hon." This capacion vessel holds rather more than a bottle and a half of liquor. According to the old custom, every laird of Macleod was obliged on his coming of age to fill this horn with claret and without once laying it down to drain it to the dregs. This was taken as a proof of his manhood, and he was then deemed a worthy successor to the lairds of the past.

urinating and deposits in the urine.

Success in curing kidney disease and preventing Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, etc., depends largely on the stage of the disease at which it is taken. If treatment is begun before the tissues are too far wasted away, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will positively cure you, and promptly at that.

Mr. John Lewis, Surrey Centre, B. C., states: "I have been troubled with kidney disease and terrible pains in the back for over a year. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have taken the pains away and are curing me. They are good pills for the kidneys."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act directly on the kidneys, strengthen and invigorate them, and permanently cure kidney disease and backache.

THE DEPARTMENTAL STORE

AGAIN.

The appearance of a large number of gatalogues from an eastern business concern showing lines of staple and fancy goods at apparently low prices and sol iciting letter orders from all classes of people, brings up again the question, which has been such a sore one with many of the retail traders in the west, of people sending east for goods which can be bought at home. It is known to everyone who is at all observing that every year the people of the west in both town and country send a large sum of money in the aggregate to the departmental stores in the east for staple and fancy goods. These stores have learned to look to the west for this trade, they cater to it and always get it. The country is annually flooded with their catalogues, etc., through which means they solicit business.

It is unfortunate that such a state of

At is unfortunate that such a state of affairs is possible. There is no reason whatever why each section of country should not be self-contained in thematter of its retail trade. The idea that it pays to deal with the departmental stores of the east rather than with the merchants that are on the ground is erroneous to the last degree.

The local merchant may not carry so large and varied a stock as the depart-partmental store, he may not have so many bargain fakes to attract customers, but he generally has the class of goods which are best adapted for the section in which they are being sold, he has them on the ground, where they can be inspected before purchasing, and he is always ready to grant redress if there should be anything wrong with the article which he has sold or to change it if it does not suit. Moreover, he is a part of the local community, is spending his money where he makes it, and is helping to provide a markey for the articles which his customers in turn have to sell.

The departmental store situated perhap 1.504 miles away has none of these advantages. It is true that they sometimes offer goods for sale at what might be termed a bargain, but as a general rule the buyer gets not an iota more than his or her money's worth and not infrequently less. Their goods are as often as not much inferior to the catalogue description of them, and if the customer is not satisfied it is hard, and sometimes impossible, to obțain redress.

It is a fallacious idea which the people hold, who deal with these eastern correns, that they thus buy cheaper than they can at home. Figures are obtainble in abundance to show that the local stores are very often, at the same time the order was sent east, selling the goods at the identical prices given by the catalogue house, without adding anything for carriage or other expenses of laying the goods down. Furthermore, it has been proven in courts of law that at least one eastern catalogue house has been guilty of downright fraught in regard to the quality of goods which it

The fall trading season is now ap-proaching and it promises to transcend in every way all previous similar periods in Western Canada. It is to big hoped that purchasers every where will confine their business as much as possible to the trading concerns which are legitimately entitled to a share of it.—From Winnipeg Commercial.

There is something more than grid than in the suggestion a proceed to a Chicago man that the easier said theap est way to overcome the Filipmos would be to send them a pientifur supply of Bourbon whatey. Once they took to drinking it, he said, their conquest would be an easy matter, and the effect of fire water on the Indiana was cited as a proof that whiskey is a more deadly thing than gunpowder in discosing of horizinal races. It is a said but incon-trovertable fact that the introduction of intoxicating liquor and accompanying vices by the white man has demoralized, degraded and destroyed whole races. When Captain Cook re-discovered the Hawaiian Islands a century and a quarter ago, he found them populated by a robust, happy people, estimated at the number of four hundred thousand. In less than a hundred years rum and the diseases in its train had reduced them to one-tenth that number, and the remnant of this once happy race is fast disappearing. The same story is being told of the Indians of Alaska. To them liquor is a veritable poison, and is killing them off so fast that the Indian agent in the territory reports that if the traffic be not suppressed, whole tribes will cease to exist in a few years. This is the most potent of all the influences spread by the nations which are boastfully going forth to civilize and Christianize the world. Where the missionary saves ten, the trader slays a hundred—Ex.

The last session of the Dominion Parliament lasted over four and a half months. That is a long time but it is not unique. Here are the figures of some former sessions: 1884, four months exactly: 1885, five nonths and tomety-one days; 1891, five months and one day; 1892, four months and eight days; 1898, four months and ten days. The shortest session was the second of 1873, which opened on October 3rd and was prorogued on November the 7th, after a duration of fitteen days. The newlyformed Mackenzie Government then appealed to the country. The first session of that year nominally lasted from March 5th to August 15th, five months and eight days, but it was adjourned on May 23rd, after two months and eighteen days, and on re-assembling on August 13th, was immediately prorogued. The two sessions next in shortness to the session, of 1873, were the second of 1893 one month and sixteen days, and that of 1871, one month and twenty days.

In a recent editorial in these columns it was stated that full provision was made for the destruction of noxious weeds on the public higways, unoccupied lands and all other lands. One of our "constatt readers" takes exception to this and would like to know what provision has been made for the destruction of weeds on graded roads where the district has not been organized under the Local Improvement Ordinance. As far as we know there is no law under which these can be destroyed, but we are of the opinion that the "law of necessity" should be sufficient authority for the North-West Government to undertake their destruction. If it is not, provision should be made to cover such cases.

Does anyone know about what the Government has done with the report it received from Mr. Clute in the matter of the death of laborers on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway? Sir Richard Cartwright said to his Toronto audience that the road is making millions, but he did not give any information on this interesting point. Do doubt the friends of the victims would like to know what is being done about it.—Events.

By a Winnipeg despatch of Sept. 8th we learn that Miss Marlatt and Rev. A. R. Robinson selected a very unique place in which to make their wedding yows. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Jackson Wray, Methodist minister at Banff, on the top of Mount Rundle, which towers 10,000 feet above sea level. The party were conducted to the summit by Swiss guides, and the ascent took about three hours.

Boharm.

Boharm, Sept. 13th, '99.—This week will finish the grain cutting in this settlement, and already the farmers have commenced to talk "threshing." Some think it best to stack, others advocate threshing from the stook. The crops are geod and judging from the straw and the amount of twine used, the yield will be something great.—We were glad to see the smiling countenance of Rev. A. Barner in the Boharm congregaton last Sunday.—Our school is progressing favorably under the able management of our new teacher, Miss McLeland.—Mr. Jasper Johnston, a prosperous young farmer from the east, is visiting his uncle, Mr. Mahlon Johnston, of this place. Mr. Johnston is very favorably impressed with this country. We may have him for a settler here.—The Laird is busy preparing for threshing. He expects a large season, but he forgets that Mayor Bob is on the track.—Mr. Lincoln Bastedo is now convalescent.

Bright's Disease Pronounced Past Hope By Physicians — South American Kidney Cure is the Life Saver.

A traveller for a well-known western manufacturing firm was so hale and hearty that the possibility of his contracting kidney trouble was farthest from his mind, but through constant exposure Bright's Disease, that most insidious of ailments, laid hold on him. He doctored for months—physicians gave him but a short time to live. A friend who had derived great benefit from South American Kidney Cure recommended it to him. When he had taken seven bottles all signs of the disease had left him, and to-day he is as well as ever.

One of the alterations effected by the recent conference between the C.P.K. trainmen and officials at Winnipeg, is in regard to the running of freight trains on Sunday. Under the old schedule it was generally believed that there were more freight trains on Sunday than any other day; but as to the truth of this we are not in a position to say. However, the employees are to be congratulated that under the new regulations only perishable freight is supposed to be handled. It is to be hoped that the Company will keep its part of the regulations in spirit as well as in letter. The Sabbath was made for man—the railway man as well as any other man—and we fail to see any good reason why he should be denied the privilege of enjoying its blessings. The pulpit, the press and public opinion should be stronger on this subject, and see to it that the western railway men have the same privileges as their fellow employees in Eastern Canada in this respect.

To-day he possesses a quarter section, a son, Roy, has three-quarters, and Ed., a half, or in all 900 acres of good farming land, which, by the way, is the only kind of land in this district. Since they commenced farming they have experienced once or two failures, but for the past four years they have reaped splendid crops, and this year promises to be the best yet. Mr. Harris is getting too old to engage extensively in farming, but conducts a market garden and pays some attention to stock raising, circumstant trips to town with vegetables and returns with from $5.00 to $8.00 each time. He and his son, Roy, manage their two farms between them, and this year have 130 acres of crop and sixty of breaking for next year. His eldest son, Ed., is married and farms on his own account, and has this year about 200 acres under cultivation, half of which is under crop. Between them they have some twenty head of horses and thirty-five of cattle. Mr. Harris cannot speak too highly of of this country and assured us that he never could have done so well in Ontario.

Continuing northward we passed the farm houses of Messra, Hiram Cliue and and one daughter. When he Moose Jaw Mr. Harris had next

Here we left the graded road and travelled westward, and turning northward we drove up to the farm house of Mr. Wm. Watson, an ex-president of the Moose Jaw Agricultural Society. Mr. Watson came to the North-West in the spring of '83 from Wingham, Ont., where he had control of seven cheese factories for years and also engaged in farming. He left his wife and family in Ontario and came west to prove the country. After thoroughly inspecting the Regina and other districts, he came to the conclusion that Moose Jaw was all right and entered for 2-18-37, which he homesteed. After an experience of six crops, he had been able to make both ends meet on the homestead, and in addition to a good livelihood and purchasing a full stock of agricultural implements, etc., etc., himself and son had acquired 800 acres of land, and being convinced that his prospects in this country were much brighter than in Ontario, he sold out his interests there and brought his wife and family to this district. Mr. Watson and his son, Angus, have now 1,120 acres of land, and this year have 300 acres under crop and 130 summerfallowed for next year. Last year Mr. Watson had 4,580 bushels of grain off 140 acres, and this year they expect their wheat to yield thirty, oats seventy, and barley forty bushels to the acre. Mr. Watson has a herd of twenty-five cattle and eight work horses, and Angus has five horses and four head of cattle. Mr. Watson has a herd of twenty-five cattle and eight work horses, and his year they expect their wheat to yield thirty, oats seventy, and barley forty bushels to the acre. We had followed it far until we met Mr. Maniel Harris on his way to town with ad of vegetables for the Moose Jaw keck. Mr. Harris came to this country years ago from Listowel, Ont., accomised by his wife and family of two sons where the physicians accounted where the physicians accounted wise, searched vainly for the Elisir of Life. From here we drove to the farm of Mr. J. D. Fraser, also in the Malborough district, whom we found on his binder "mowing it down." Mr. Fraser is a "her-ring back," having come from Nova Scotia in '81 and after spending a couple of years at Brandon he came to this district, and after working out for a couple of years at Brandon he came to this district, and after working out for a couple of years he took up land and commenced farming on his own account. He has now 640 acres of land, a fine large barn 28x12 which he built last summer, and a comfortable farm house in which he keeps batch. This year he has under crop 120 acres, and 140 acres in good shape for next year. Some of the wheat he expects to yield thirty-five bushels, but the average will not be that high. He has ten head of horses and works the farm alone except in harvest time. This fall he expects to build a new granary 18x30 and make other improvements around the place. Mr. Fraser believes in sowing good seed, for as a man sows so and three girls. They brought with them a carload of settlers' effects and a couple of cows. Mr. Glassford homesteaded about four milles from Moose Jaw and has now 640 acres of land, 150 under crop and 100 summerfallow. He has also six good lots in town and a couple of dwelling houses worth about $2,500.00. He has fifteen work horses, six yearling colts, eleven head of young cattle and four milch cows. By the time this reaches our readers, Mr. Glassford will have finished cutting, last week his three binders having cut 120 acres of wheat. His grain is therefore beyond the danger of frost. This year he expects 4,000 bushels of wheat and 2,000 doats besides barley, etc. Mr. Glassford's children of the company of the co

URGENT MESSAGES SENT TO ALI THE MINISTERS.

Highland Regiments Said to Be Unde rders-Kruger Will Not Wait for an Ultimatum.

London, Sept. 6.—The premier, the Marquis of Satisbury, will come to London today from Walmer to confer with the secretary of state for the colonies, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, and a cabinet comen has been summoned for Friday, urgent messages having been sent to all the ministers requesting their attendance. There is great cuttiny at the admirtally, the war office, and the colonial office. Numerous telegrams from South Africa arrived at the colonial office yesterday, but their contents have not been made public General Lord Wolseley, field marshal, and commander in-chief, is in daily communication with the war office, as are also General Wood, adjutant general to the forces, and Colonel Hector Ma-Donald, and-ed-cump to the Queen. The Press Association asserts that the officers of the Highland light Infantry, at Davenport, notified their men Lest evening to prepare for departure, probably on Taursday. The Daily Mail expresses the opinion that "the Daily Mail expresses the opinion that "the declarest will be an ultimatum unless President Kruger yields." It declares that 15,000 men is the outside number that the Transvaal government can put into the field.

leat the Transvaal government can put atto the field. The Times, which comments edicitally upon the gravity of the situation that necessitates a cabinet council tsuch an unusual period, says: "It would be unpardonable folly to shut ur eyes to the suspiciously dilatory haracter of Kruger's diplomacy and to be energy with which he is simultaneously preparing for war. It is well nown that General Sir Henry Baller as been selected to command the British forces, should war unfortunatelyons, but it is the clear duty of the overnment to take other steps besides be choice of a commander."

The Berlin correspondent of the ataly Mail says: "I learn from Boeronress that reliable news has been restred at The Hague from Pretoria, to be effect that President Kruger will of give Mr. Chamberlain time to send a ultimatum, but will take advantage the first saspicious move of the Brith troops on the border to assume the Leaver."

as Morning Post has the following to Morning Post has the following tits Johannesburg correspondent, capital of Natal: "I inspected the try carefully on the way from innesbury. The veldt is not yet in ition for war operations. The nof New Castel is utterly unproded. To seize it would assure the spossession of Laing's Nek and bel the British to do twenty miles thing over rough country, pecularited to Boer tactics. The war office is waking ut."

LAKE EREIGHTS ADVANCE.

Winnipeg. Sept 6.—A very serious advance in the lake transportation rate on grant has taken place owing to the enormous shipments of iron one from Dulath to Buffalo and the chairering of all the available vessels at enormously increased rates. The ore suipments by increased rates. The ore suipments have been bidding against the wheat shipments for vessel room at Dulath during the past week, and the result is that there was an advance of one cent a bushel on wheat, of thirty to thirty-five cents on iron, and fifty cents at thousand on lumber in lake transportation rates. The latest quotations for wheat from Dulath to Buffalo are five cents a bushel, and Winnipeg grain dealers are unable to make contracts from Fort William at less than six cents a bushel to Buffalo, as against about awo and a half cents last year, and a, auricipated maximum this year of three cents. The herivity, the competition, and the enormous shipments of both ore and wheat from Duluth will attract so many vessels that the supply at Fort William, which is chiefly American bottoms, will be short and the rates high. It is a regretable fact that there are not enough boast to handled the bushess, and those now available and in the trade will simply be gold mines during the next few months. The disheartening effect of this so far as Manitoba and the west are concerned is to throw an additional burden on grain and lessen the amount which the farmer will receive. It is usual for rates to take an upward jump towards the close of navigation but this fear of the action of the strandinary movements of iron ore as well as lumber that advance and the trade will sumbly fear owing to the extraordinary novements of iron ore as well as lumber that effects of the supplements of iron ore as well as lumber that editions and the extraordinary novements of iron ore as well as lumber that each are concerned to the extraordinary novements as the close of acting the part of the extraordinary novements and the extraordinary novements and the extraordinary novements ar

EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

A Vessel Ban Into an Jeeberg During a Dense Fog and Narrowly Escaped.

New York, Sept. 6.—Passengers who arrived here on the Anchor line steamship, City of Rome, from Glasgow yesterday, told of an exciting experience they had on Thursday last off the banks of Newfoundland when the vessel ran into an iceberg in a dense fog, and had a narrow escape from adding another to the list of freightful disastes at sea. The City of Rome left. Glasgow on August 26th and had a fair and uneventful voyage until Thursday, August 31st, when early in the day she ran into a thick heavy fog. Her speed was reduced to about nine knots an hour and extra outlooks were posted. As the day wore on the air became cold, and, fearing icebergs might be the cause, Capt. Hugh Young and several of his officers remained constantly on the bridge. The entire crew, too, was held in readiness for any emergency, but no word of the anxiety of the ship's officers reached the passengers, and those in the first cabin who ate at the first table were at dinner when the sollision occurred at about 5.60 o'cleck. Capt. Young was pacing the bridge, occasionally stopping to peer into the gloom, or to speak to one of the other officers, and by his direction one of them had just signalled the engineer to show down still more, when the lookout on the starboard bow waved his hands and shouted, "Ice dead ahead, sir." Within a second the bells were clanging in the engine room and the City of Rome was backing at full speed. Meantime all the officers except the captain had sprung from the bridge, and in response to their orders the crew were taking their posts at the beats and elsewbere.

All of a sudden there was a crunching noise, the bow rose high in the air, and then dropped to the level again as the City of Rome, crushing through and glancing aiong the edge of the ice-perg, passed it and it disappeared in the fog. The captain immediately ascertained the amount of damage done and soon shouted to the passengers, "No damage, no danger." There was a seene of con-iderab

Mormon Persecution.
Chattanoga, Tenn., Sept. 6.—An armed mot of some 200 men took charge of a court" sheriff and litigants vesterday at Johnson Springs, Va., and by main force put a stop to the proceedings. For a time a wholesale lynching appeared inevitable. Elder Joseph E. Tueffin, a Mormon, was murderously assaulted some nights ago from ambush, brutally beaten with clubs and kicked while unconscious on the ground. Flemming Ridley, a white farmer, was arrested as the leader in the attack on a charge of assault with intent to murder He was arraigned forstrial yesterday and soon after horsemen surrounded the court house and detailed a committee to outfy the court that proceedings must stop.

A second committee of determined notify the court that proceedings must stop.

A second committee of determined regulators took charge of Elder Tueffin and threatened to lynch him unless he agreed to withdraw the proceeding and leave the country. Fearing they would carry their threats into execution he withdrew the case. The prisoner has been liberated by the mob. Tueffin remarked that there was no justice in Virgina, whereupon members of the mob replied: "No law for Mormons except to kill them."

Montreal, S-pt. 8.—Robertson Copland, aged 16, son of E. K. Copland, was driving with Mr. James Paton, whom he was visiting at Lakeside. They were struck by an engine crossing the C.P.R. tracks Young Copland was instantly killed. Robertson was almost unhurt.

SEVEN DROWNED.

nbers of the Daytson Family Were Caught in a Squall and Only Four Were Saved.

Halifax, Sept. 5.—A terrible accident, resulting in the loss of seven lives, occurred off the harbor yesterday evening. The victims were members of a piculic party which left here yesterday morning in a yeach hired for the occasion. Their destination was McNab's Island, a popular, resort about two miles from the city. The boat reached its destination in safety and the pleasure-seekers spent an enjoyable day. The party included Robert Davison, aged 25; his wife, 28; his sisters, Mabel, 12; Florence, 28; Alice, 24; Berths, 24, and Louis, 29; Wm. H. Hamillon, of the city clerk's office, 29; J. Hancock, 30; J. Poole and Edward Jude, officers of H. M. S. Talbot.

The Davisons were children of Robert

Bertha, 24, and Louis, 29; Wm. H. Hamilton, of the city clerk's office, 29; J. Hancock, 30; J. Poole and Edward Jude, officers of H. M. S. Talbot.

The Davisons were children of Robert Davison, who came here from New York yeven years ago, and is one of the best known residents of this city. The young people were all prominent in society circles and young Hamilton and Bertha Davison were to have been married in the near future. About 5 o'clock the party started to retrrend the house with a strong wind blowing from the north. The breeze freshened until it assumed the proportions of a gale and heavy squalls followed one after the other in quick succession. It was one of the most dangerous sailing days that has been experienced for some time and when the boat was in a most dangerous part of the channel, a tremendous gust of wind struck them with all sail set and tore the mast from its box. A second gust forced the heavy timber back, and striking the bottom injected a hole through the holt of sangh Bertha and Louise Davison in their arms and started for the shore. The others were left to their fate. Mrs. Davison was the first to disappear beneath the waves and short ty after the other companies followed her. For nearly a quarter of an hour the brave officers fought against terrible odds and were at length picked up the add and were at length picked up the add of the channel at the proper careful medical attention that they were resuscitated.

Seamen Ordered Out.

London, Sept. 5.— The general strike of seamen and steamer firemen which has been threatened for some time was declared yesterday, the shipowners refusing to accept the invitation of the seamen's and firemen's union for a conference in regard to fixing the rate of wages for firemen and sailors on steamers at £6, and for sailors on sailing vessels at £4 monthly, a slight advance in the average wages now paid at the various British ports. Reports as to the effect and thoroughness of the movement have not yet been received, except from South Shields, where, it is stated that two thousand men have gone out. Many meetings have been Eeld in the vicinity of the London docks, the speakers expressing the determination of the men to remain idle until their demands have been granted. But traffic at this port has not yet been effected. It is not likely that the strike will be completely ordered for several days and until then its extent will not be known or its results keenly felt. The manifesto of the union ordering the strike includes all the ports in the United Kingdom.

Agreement for a Temporary Boundary Line May Be Beached Next Week.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Washington correspondent of the Hernid says:
"Important concessions have been nade by Great Britain, acting for Canada, in the matter of the Alaskan boundary dispute, which encourage the belief that an agreement for the establishment of a temporary boundary line may be reached next week. The officials are reticent concerning the officials are reticent concerning the character of these concessions, but it is understood that in the final draft of the modus vivend in under consideration no provision will be made for a free port on the Lynn Canal for Canada. It seems to be the general impression that in the permanent arrangement for the settlement of the dispute it will be agreed that Great Britain shall have a port on the Lynn Canal under a lease from this government for ninety-nine years no matter how other points of the controversy may be settled.

Although Canada has apparently changed her attitude and agreed to make the concessions which Great Britain has advanced, it may be stated that Secretary Hay has not withdrawn from the position assumed by this government that the boundary line be placed to the northward of the village of luckwan. Ao matter whether the dispute is temporarily settled or not, this govern ment thinks that it would not do to relinguish a fort of territory which is undoubtedly American, and Greet Britain fully understands the purpose of the United States not to withdraw. Secretary Hay will thoroughly discuss the Alaskan question tomorrow with the president, and determine the attitude of the United States, now that there is a porspect of a temporary settlement at least of the boundary controversy.

BOER ORGAN SAYS WAR.

BOER ORGAN SAYS WAR.

Conflicting Dispatches as to Condition of Feeling in the Transvaal.

London, Sept. 5.—Amid the crowd of conflicting dispatches from South Africa, regarding the Transval situation, it is st. I impossible to say exactly what has happened, it seems evident, however, that President Kruger has withdrawn the five year franchise, which was dependent on Great Britain's acceptance of impossible conditions regarding sucreainty and had made some sort of temporarizing counter suggestions regarding a conference. He has evidently backed down, but will his parliament support him, is the question.

The Standard and Diggers' News gives what purports to be a report of the secret session of the volksraad on Saturday. According to this account, the volksraad not only determined to reject the five year proposal, but also stoutly opposed President Kruger visiting Cape Town, and resolves to make a stand for the abrogation of England's claim of suzerainty. The Boer organ then asserts: "The Bovernment, both the Raads and the Brighers, feel that they have offered all they intend to offer, and are now resolved to stand or fall by this decision."

Boer statements of this kind, coupled with the arrest at Johannesburg, speak loader than the wriggling pretences of count of the fine assurances of the state attorney.'

The Jobalnesburg correspondent of the Standard says: "I learn from an official who has been earnestly striving for peace, trat the matter is now hopeless. The Boers will probably declare war at forty-eight hours notice and will try to raid Natal before the British troops arrive. I believe the Orange Free State will join the Transvall, but that the Boers in Natal and Cape Colony will remain quiet at the outset unless irritated by the diamissal of the Cape Colony cabinet. The Boers have the fullest confidence, in their magazine rife and their skill in marksmanhip, State Attorney Smuts is the chief inciter of the war party. Thirty thousand men in the Transval and twenty thousand in the Orange Free State will take the field."

TRADE EXPANDS.

THE AUTUAN TRADE PROSPECTS WERE NEVER BRIGHTER.

New York, Sept. 4.—Bradstreets trade review for the week says signs of expansion in Cauadian trade are to be noted this week. Montreal reports that dry goods jobbers are busy, groceries and hardware are active, iron and its products are steadily advancing, shoe manufacturers have advanced prices ten per cent, bad debts are few, the farmer have good times, and all in all, autumn trade prospects were never brighter. Industrial exhibition and millinery opening at Toronto have attracted considerable country trade, and August order are ahead of the record. Grain crops are saisfactory, rail way bulding is active and considerable money is expected seeking Canadian intestment. Trade in the maritime provinces is reported fair to active with jobber on full orders and collections improving. Sampson's Anemometer.

When Admiral Sampson was a lieutenaut in command of a small sailing vessel, he worked on a kind of anemonster or wind gauge. Finally it was complete, and one day it stood on the roof of the cabin, which protruded for some distance above the deck. The little boat was rocking idly to and fro in a calm. Lieutenaut Sampson was below, enjoying a siesta. Suddenly a gust of wind rippled the water and the mainsail boom awang violently across the deck. Smash, and over into the fathomless deep went that precions anemometer.

The Allau's new clyde built steamer "Bavarian" 1200 tcn, twin screw, description of which was given at time she was launched from Denny & Co.'s yards Dumbarton, has just completed her trial trip which proved a great success. Her average speed for the voyage was seventeen and a half knots. This shows her to be perhaps the speedlest as well as toe largest vessel trading to Montreal, in fact larger than the majority of steamers sailing from New York. It also demonstrates the fact that passengers may now make as good time via Montreal as any other route, the difference in speed being equalized by the shorter ronte via the St. Lawrence. The "Bavarian" is a model of perfection as far as safety and comfort is concerned. The interior decoration and furnishings are of the highest order; thousands of incandescent lamps illumizate every part of the boat. She has superior accommodation for all classes of passengers. The first cabin accommodation is situated in the steadiest and widest part of the ship. The mostinum number of cabin passenges to be carried is 300. Special attention has been given the second cabin, many new features which will add to the comfort of passengers, will now be found by those taking that class of accommodation. In fact she possess all the comforts and conveniences that delight the heart of the ocean voyager. The third class accommodation has not been overlooked. There is a nice sitting room for women and smoking room for the men, also separate rooms for men and their wives.

She filled the wast called for by every one in regard to the fast Atlantic service. By this steamer the passage can be made from Winnireg to Liver pool in a little over eight days an without any of 'he inconven ences of transferring a leng distance from the seamer.

tunately the fire was smothered out offere the building caught and no damage was done.

Now that the duck shooting season has rightly commenced, the usual number of "big pot "stories are going the rounds. But while the "pots" may be big, sometimes it happens that the ducks are small; consequently some very amusing yarns are told. "The opening" this year has been distinguished by the number of inexperienced vimrods who have taken to the field, and by all appearances the ducks are having lots of fun. Most conspicuous among these new beginners are Brakeman Wesley Graham Dave Alexander, McIntyre, Jonathan Stephenson, and last, but by no means least, Dr. Radcliffe, among whom a friendly rivalry exists. Graham, McIntyre & Co. think "mud-hens" make the best sport, because, as "Wea." asys, it a fellow can't shoot 'em he can'r un 'em down. But, ioking aside, these two sports are "getting it down fine" and last Friday made a big "pot," thus disproving the assertion of their competitors that mud hens were all they could "bag." But their rivals refused to utilize the columns of The Times in order to vindicate himself, and last Friday presented us with a the pair of "floppers," which he says is the finest species of wild duck he has yet seen.
